

Kaizen

Strategically assess your processes, and implement changes in your plant

By organizing and running a rapid process-improvement event, or kaizen, you will be able to assess any area of your organization in need of change or improvement, conduct the necessary training, and take action in a very short period of time, producing immediate results. GaMEP will train and facilitate your team to solve current problems and prevent future ones.

GaMEP will help you:

- Train your organization on lean principles and how kaizen events help with continuous improvement.
- Assess your current situation to identify opportunities.
- Gather cross-functional teams to establish and execute plans through kaizen events.
- Learn to monitor and improve upon results.

By implementing a kaizen event, you will:

Industrial Automation Company Finds Solutions Using Lean Tools

"GaMEP has helped us do in less than a year the things that we tried to do for years and couldn't get done. The proof is in the pudding. On-time performance is up, lead times are beginning to go down, and setups are now being done in a fraction of the time. That's measurable."

Operations Manager, Groov-Pin

"We set up two kaizen events, in both the coating department and the rolling department. Productivity went through the roof and morale is high."

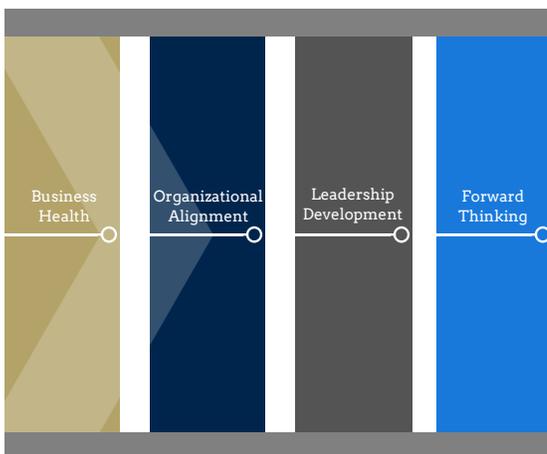

Plant Manager, Tara Materials
